Reflective Essay

On this course, I have learned a lot about my vision as a secondary teacher. I have also acquired many useful skills and rationale through the Shared Vision course. In working to develop my vision, I have learned much about how we communicate our view of desired state of affairs that induces commitment and working for the same purpose. I have read data in a variety of ways to inform the decision-making process with all stakeholders involved in every child's education. As Robert Fritz, there is a difference between a concept and a vision. Concept is vision is specific. A vision takes on an identity all on its own, and becomes self-
